The contest ran smoothly Thursday and I was thinking about all of the work that goes on behind the scenes. I know we occasionally take time out to thank our volunteers, but I can't help but wonder if most of us realize how much work goes into an event such as this by a lot of people who love this sport and work tirelessly to support it.

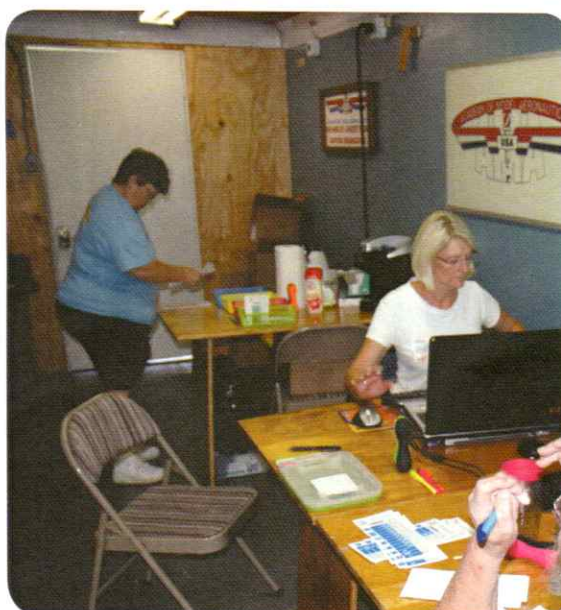

I'm going to talk about a specific group of people in today's report. They are responsible for every score that is recorded and tabulated from every pilot in every round. They work in "the Whale." It's an air-conditioned trailer with no windows and one door.

These volunteers are the heartbeat of this event. They are in this trailer constantly working from the time the first airplane lifts off until well past the time the last one lands. Most of us want to see the scores as soon as possible, and these ladies deliver. They are Head Scorekeeper, Phyllis Youngblood; Assistant Scorekeepers Ronda Vance and Terri Foster; and assistants Jeanette Delk and Jenna Johns.

Stop by the Whale and tell them how much you appreciate the work they are doing. ➔
